Staying Put IN  New Canaan

“ Staying Put in its thoughtful grass-roots approach of ‘seniors helping seniors’ provides ways for friendships and community involvement to brighten our extra years after retirement and make them valuable.”

David S. Brown, MD, Founding Member

▲ Members Dick and Lois Sandberg also volunteer at events.

▼ We're always a hit in the Memorial Day Parade!

Staying Put in New Canaan is...

a 501(c)(3) non-profit, volunteer-supported organization dedicated to helping senior residents live their lives to the fullest in their own homes and in their community as they grow older.

Just one call to 203-966-7762 provides...

a personal link to practical services that make living safer and easier at home, and social programs that promote friendships and involvement outside the home.

Staying Put is supported by a professional staff and nearly 200 volunteers.

Practical Benefits

With one phone call, Staying Put members get assistance that makes living at home safer and easier:

- Rides to medical and other appointments, and to Staying Put events
- Grocery shopping, pharmacy pickup, and other errands
- Technical help: TV, computer, iPad, and cell phones
- Home safety assessments
- Odd job help: moving furniture, hanging pictures, and changing ceiling bulbs
- Referrals to more than 50 pre-screened professionals such as heating service, plumbers, painters, electricians, and snowplowing
- Reassurance for you, your family, and friends
- Warm personalized service and assistance when needed

"I like the ease of getting names of professionals, knowing that they are vetted and good workers."

Gloria Major-Brown

Volunteers

While you may think, “I don’t need Staying Put yet,” you can get to know us right now as a volunteer.

Our nearly 200 volunteers provide some of our most frequently requested services. As a volunteer, you can devote as much or as little time as you like – on your timetable! You can choose from a variety of ways to help: driving members to doctors and appointments, helping with a computer, TV, cell phone or iPad, visiting members at home, running errands, doing home fix-its, or staffing the office.

Your volunteer support today will help sustain Staying Put as a kind of insurance policy when you—or your parents or friends—do need it down the road.

If you would like to volunteer, please contact Barb Achenbaum, Executive Director at 203-966-7762.

"It's one of the most gratifying things I do. I love helping seniors, and I know someone will be there for me when I need it."

Judy Bentley

▼ Assistant Director Donna Simone with Founding Board Members Tom Ferguson, Lyn Chivvis, and Judy Bentley.

"Staying Put volunteers are so devoted, giving friendship and help to members at all times."

Jody Blaine Davis

"We are committed to helping make a difference for our seniors – keeping them safe and actively engaged in our community."

Barb Achenbaum, Executive Director

▲ More than 120 members, friends, and guests joined the festive celebration of our first birthday party.

▼ Our Woodway Beach Club picnic is another get-out-and-go success.

History

Staying Put in New Canaan was founded in 2007 by a group of local residents. It is part of a national movement enabling adults over 50 to stay securely independent as they grow older.

It is a member-driven organization. Members serve on the board, volunteer, and shape the future direction of services and programs.

Membership dues cover only 40% of our expenses. We purposely set our dues low in order to be accessible to all, and we provide special memberships for those with financial limitations.

Private contributors, local agencies, members, and volunteers have contributed to our successful fundraising campaigns. We are confident that we can continue to meet our operating expenses and to set aside funds to guarantee our future.
